

Hubblecast 22: Hubble directly observes planet orbiting Fomalhaut

The NASA/ESA Hubble Space Telescope has discovered an extrasolar planet, for the first time using direct visible-light imaging. The strange world is far-flung from its parent star, is surrounded by a colossal belt of gas and dust, and may even have rings more impressive than Saturn's.

Subscribe to Hubblecast! (<http://www.spacetelescope.org/videos/hubblecast.html#faq>)

Credit:
ESA(<http://www.esa.int>)/Hubble(<http://www.spacetelescope.org>) (M. Kornmesser & L. L. Christensen)
Visual design & Editing: Martin Kornmesser
Animations: Martin Kornmesser & Luis Calçada
Web Technical Support: Lars Holm Nielsen & Raquel Yumi Shida
Written by: Lee Pullen & Lars Lindberg Christensen
Presented by: Dr Joe Liske (Dr J)
Narration: Bob Fosbury
Cinematography: Peter Rixner
Music: movetwo
(<http://www.movetwo.de/>)Footage and photos: A. Fujii, Digitized Sky Survey 2, NASA, ESA, and P. Kalas (University of California, Berkeley).
Acknowledgment: Davide De Martin (ESA/Hubble)
Directed by: Lars Lindberg Christensen

Usage of ESA/Hubble Images and Videos(/copyright/)
Are you a journalist? Subscribe to the ESA/Hubble Media Newsletter.(/press/maillinglist)

About the Video

Id:	heic0821a
Release date:	13 November 2008, 20:30
Related releases:	heic0821(/news/heic0821/)
Duration:	05 m 01 s
Frame rate:	30 fps

About the Object

Category:	HD(/videos/archive/category/hd/) Hubblecast(/videos/archive/category/hubblecast/)
------------------	--

HD

-  HD & Apple TV Preview(https://cdn.spacetelescope.org/archives/videos/hd_and_apple/heic0821a.m4v)
176.5 MB
-  Full HD Preview 1080p(https://cdn.spacetelescope.org/archives/videos/hd_1080p25_screen/heic0821a.mp4)
257.6 MB checksum

Large

-  Large QT(https://cdn.spacetelescope.org/archives/videos/large_qt/heic0821a.mov)
75.7 MB

Medium

-  Video Podcast(https://cdn.spacetelescope.org/archives/videos/medium_podcast/heic0821a.m4v)
56.5 MB
-  Medium MPEG-1(https://cdn.spacetelescope.org/archives/videos/medium_mpeg1/heic0821a.mpeg)
126.8 MB
-  Medium Flash(https://cdn.spacetelescope.org/archives/videos/medium_flash/heic0821a.flv)
58.1 MB