ESO Photo Ambassadors Share Spectacular Images of the Night Sky

5 October 2010

ESO boasts many talented astrophotographers among its employees and collaborators, the finest of whom have been rewarded for their dedication by being designated official ESO Photo Ambassadors. These devoted individuals take awe-inspiring images of the night sky from ESO sites in Chile, using their photographic skills to remind us all of the beauty of the night sky.

Backed with official ESO support, this team ensure that we can all — regardless of where we live — see the exquisite southern night sky in its full and untainted glory. Selected photographs from the Photo Ambassadors are regularly released as ESO Pictures of the Week, via the ESO Twitter feed(<http://twitter.com/#!/ESO>) and Facebook page(<http://www.facebook.com/ESO Astronomy?ref=ts>), and as slideshows on the group's web page.

Current Photo Ambassadors include Yuri Beletsky, Stéphane Guisard, Gerhard Hühdepohl, José Francisco Salgado and Serge Brunier. If you are an ESO employee or collaborator and think you have what it takes to join the ranks of these Photo Ambassadors, please e-mail examples to us at osandu@eso.org.
