ESO 2011 Calendar is Out Now

3 December 2010

The European Southern Observatory's 2011 calendar has been released and can now be ordered through the ESO shop. Beautifully designed and featuring exquisite images of astronomical objects, ESO installations and landscapes, it will appeal to all those who enjoy the beauty of nature and appreciate the ability to plan ahead. For added convenience, lunar phases are indicated.

The calendar measures 42 x 42 cm and has 14 pages, with a cardboard back. It is delivered in a cardboard box.

To order a download version or a printed copy of the calendar and see example images, please visit: https://www.eso.org/public/products/calendars/calendar_2011/(/public/products/calendars/calendar_2011/)
